

I'm paying for radio service that provides me with news and entertainment, just like satellite tv. The programming shouldn't be limited, instead the broadcasters should provide a better product in order to compete.